

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Hatch Hosts Execute 16.1 and the State Of The Startup Community Address

Hatch is bringing together two of its best events to kick off 2016. Presented by Dominion Enterprises, Execute: The Hustle Driven Speaker Series and the State of the Startup Community Address will be held on January 21st 2016 at Norfolk's Slover Library. These events are focused on entrepreneurship but open to everyone.

Execute provides a platform for successful entrepreneurs to share insights, inspirations, and experiences through their personal narratives.

Speakers for this installment include Glen Moriarty of 7 Cups of Tea, Tom Knox of Care Family, Amy and Jerry Frostick of J&A Racing, and Shawn McDonald of Feedback. The event will be begin 1:00 pm.

The State of the Startup Community Address is returning for it's second year. Everyday more driven individuals are making the leap to become entrepreneurs. Together we're a part of movement, of people choosing to control their own futures by starting a business. We organized the State of the Startup Community Address to let you know what we've collectively accomplished this year, and what to look forward to next year.

The State of the Startup Community Address will be given by Zack Miller and will begin at 5:00 pm. Before the address over 40 companies will be participating in a startup showcase. This will be a science-fair style exhibit of the best and brightest startups in the region.

You can find tickets to Execute and SSCA at <http://StartWithHatch.com/Events/> . We look forward to seeing you there.
